Praised for her distinctive sound and compelling technique, Shelby Anderson leads a versatile career as a performer, teacher, and recording artist in Broomfield, Colorado.

Shelby performs frequently in Colorado and in her home state of Kentucky, and has performed with the Cave Run Symphony Orchestra (Morehead, KY), Psalm 150 Orchestra (Louisville, KY), and CU Boulder Symphony Orchestra. Shelby is a substitute with Wild Beautiful Orchestra and Colorado Wind Ensemble. As a recording artist, Shelby works with composers and ensembles through remote session recording work.

As a soloist, Shelby was a finalist in the Gallaher Music Performance Scholarship Competition, the Flute Society of Kentucky Collegiate Artist Competition, and was selected as the alternate for the Mid South Masterclass Competition. Shelby has performed in masterclasses with renowned artists, including Sookyung Park, Karen McLaughlin Large, Eva Amsler, Colleen White, and Chelsea Tanner.

An avid supporter of music education, Shelby is a sought after teacher, clinician, and performer. Shelby is the owner of SA Flute Studio based in Broomfield, Colorado where she specializes in creating a well rounded music education from the beginner level through pre-college, including ear training and music theory in her studio teaching as well as masterclass participation, frequent studio performances and a strong sense of community. She is in demand as a clinician, adjudicator, and teacher at various middle, high schools, and colleges in her home state, as well as the Denver area. Most recently, Shelby has been a teaching artist with A Free Bird Non-profit in upstate New York and presented her clinic on "Demystifying the Flute Embouchure (for the Band Director)," at Morehead State University. Shelby is a KinderFlute trained teacher, and holds a Kentucky P-12 Instrumental Music Teaching License.

Shelby is currently studying at the University of Denver, where she is pursuing a Graduate Certificate in Performance and Recording & Production. Shelby earned her Bachelor's Degree in Music Education at Morehead State University. Shelby's former teachers include Christina Jennings, Jennifer Cooper, Heather Small, and Chelsea Tanner. Shelby is currently studying with Professor Julie Thornton.

Shelby plays a Burkart Professional model flute with a 10k gold Burkart headjoint with a 14k gold riser.
